1. Entrance to the exhibition

Welcome to the Museum of Fine Arts Liberec. You have just entered the space beneath the swimming pool hall, where we are currently presenting a solo exhibition by North Region artist, who continues to live and work in Ústí nad Labem. The exhibition offers a new perspective on the Anthropocene: despite all the destruction caused by humankind, it also reveals a harmony with nature and the inseparable co-participation of all forms of life. For the artist, metamorphosis in this exhibition may represent not only change, but also transition – a departure from the self, a movement that aligns with nature, its presence, and intertwines with sound. Everything may be just a grain of time – a small yet intense fragment, seemingly insignificant to some, and yet fundamentally important within the universe, as the next grain may never come. We wish you an enjoyable experience.
